JUNIOR HISTORIANS

Reading Club

Coraline

Coraline Jones steps through a mysterious door and suddenly enters a world where everything is the same, but slightly better, and slightly sinister, and all together "Other." Capture what your "Other" world might look like on the left compared to the real world on the right.

Use this writing to prompt to start your own spooky story. Use more paper to keep the story going!

You discover a door. Maybe it's always been there, maybe it just appeared. You approach with caution and curiosity. When you turn the knob, it creaks beneath your fingers. The gears inside clunk and clang and the door gives way to a dark corridor. You think you can see what's down there, but you can't be quite sure. You take a deep breath, summon your courage, and proceed into the dark.

escribe what you find there.
	- Indiana and a second of 1
4	0000
_
	11
	COL

